NETWORK SENSE

METHODS FOR VISUALIZING A DISCIPLINE

#WRITING

Series Editor: Cheryl E. Ball

The #writing series publishes open-access digital and low-cost print editions of monographs that address issues in digital rhetoric, new media studies, digital humanities, techno-pedagogy, and similar areas of interest.

The WAC Clearinghouse, Colorado State University Open Press, and the University Press of Colorado are collaborating so that books in this series are widely available through free digital distribution and in a low-cost print edition. The publishers and the series editor are committed to the principle that knowledge should freely circulate. We see the opportunities that new technologies have for further democratizing knowledge. And we see that to share the power of writing is to share the means for all to articulate their needs, interest, and learning into the great experiment of literacy.

The WAC Clearinghouse supports teachers of writing across the disciplines. Hosted by Colorado State University, and supported by the Colorado State University Open Press, it brings together scholarly journals and book series as well as resources for teachers who use writing in their courses. This book is available in digital formats for free download at wac.colostate.edu.

Founded in 1965, the University Press of Colorado is a nonprofit cooperative publishing enterprise supported, in part, by Adams State University, Colorado State University, Fort Lewis College, Metropolitan State University of Denver, Regis University, University of Colorado, University of Northern Colorado, Utah State University, and Western State Colorado University. For more information, visit upcolorado.com. The Press partners with the Clearinghouse to make its books available in print.

For my son and daughter, Phillip and Isabel,
in no particular order (I love you both the most).
